Solicitud de asistencia legal en español

We need you to give us some information for us to decide if you are eligible for our legal assistance.

You will be asked a few questions, like the name of the opposing party in your legal issue. The opposing party may be a spouse in a divorce case, a landlord, or a collection agency, anyone with whom you may have a dispute or legal issue.

You will be asked about:

- your household income on a monthly or annual basis (this means everyone in your house, not just you)
- the amount of rent you pay
- any fixed debt payments (like taxes you are paying)
- child support paid by anyone in your household.

The expenses listed above are the only expenses we can consider in figuring your eligibility for free services. If you don't qualify for free services, we will help you learn about other services including services that have a low fee.

We ask you to answer as many questions as you can in the application. Your first and last name require answers.

When you have completed the questions, click the button that says Submit Application. Your information will be sent to a Kansas Legal Services Intake Specialist.

If the phone in your home is not safe for you to use, please give us a safe phone or email address so we can reach you.

We will call you within three to four business days. We will email or call you at the contact information you gave in the application.

We will need to check the information you gave us and tell you about options for you to use to meet your legal problem.
